

National Hospitality Institute students hold talent show

Times News Service

MUSCAT: A fashion show, competitions and sporting events were the highlight of the fun-filled day organised by a group of hospitality management diploma students at the National Hospitality Institute (NHI).

The student committee had organised a talent show, NHI's "Got Talent 2015", where several students signed up to showcase their talent in singing and dancing, painting and in fashion designing.

Students also organised a sporting event, which included a tug of war and a dodge ball competition. The event was sponsored by Competence HR.

The talent show was judged by three external judges: Tonia Gray, general manager, Competence

HR, Geeta Narender Chauhan, assistant vice principal, Senior Section, Indian School Muscat and Ahmed Al Raisi, operations manager, City Season Hotel.

"All the students performed with poise and confidence in front of their teachers and other students entertained everyone present. The event was efficiently organised by the Student Committee, and was received well by all as there was much applause for everyone involved", Competence HR's Gray told the Times of Oman.

"I really appreciate the energy and enthusiasm shown by each and every participant and the organisers to make this event a grand success. I had a wonderful time judging the event", Chauhan said.