

Oman Cables Industry employees attend training programme at NHI

Employees from Oman Cables Industry (OCI) recently attended a five-day 'International Award in Delivering Training' programme at the National Hospitality Institute in Wadi Kabir.

The course, certified by the UK's Highfield Awarding Body for Compliance (HABC), develops group training skills. Participants have hands-on practice in planning and delivering interactive training sessions, and also learn how to give constructive feedback to each other.

Trainer Julie Locke says, "I enjoy running this programme and gain a great deal of satisfaction from seeing the participants' progress. By the end of the week, they are delivering lively, engaging and focused training sessions."

"OCI is one of a number of fast-moving, highly successful companies in the Rusayl Industrial Estate. I foresee a growing need for skilled trainers to develop the industrial work force, and this programme fits the bill perfectly," said Robert MacLean principal of NHI.
